Many deaths from starv.tion have been reported. It is also impossible to get food for the cattle, the pasture lanes being devoid of grasses, and in many place the streams have dried up, rendering it imposible to get water for them. Horses, cows, dankeys and other live stock are dying in large numbers everywhere in the districts.

It is not only the poorer classes of the population that are suffering from the scarcity of food. Many natives of the high castes are making application to the authorities for relief to keep themselves and their families from starvation.

Percial Dispatch to The Evening Star.
Perensburg, Va., August 6.—John T. Camp-Petersburg, Va., August 6.—John T. Campbell of the Index-Appeal staff died this morning after a protracted illness of Bright's disease of the kidneys. The deceased was a native of Petersburg and for many years had been engaged in the newspaper business. He was at one time connected with the Daily Post here as city editor, and at another held a like position on the Evening Sar, which was published in this city some years ago and edited by ex-Gov. Cameron. For several years he has been on the Index-Appeal. Mr. Campbell at one time took an active part in politics, and once held the position of clerk to one of the Senate committees in Washington, where he is widely known. Mr. Campbell for some time was clerk in the navy department at the navy yard in Portsmouth.

FRANCO-RUSSIAN ALLIANCE.

It is Announced That One Binding the Parts, August 6.—Bumors concerning the re sults of the recent visit of the French fleet to Cronstadt and the close friendship between dussia and France continue to be circulated in all classes of society and there is much conjecture as to what the outcome of the conference between the representatives of the two nations will be.

Le Paiz today publishes an article, which if true, will put an end to all conjecture. That paper says that Baron Mohrenheim, the Russian ambassador to France, has received a cipher dispatch from the Russian foreign minister announcing that a treaty of alliance between Russia and France has been signed. ERREGUEG, August 6.—On the recent occurrence of the name day of the czarina the mayor of Cherbourg sent a dispatch to her majesty congratulating her upon the occasion. Today the mayor received a telegram from the ozar thanking him for the kind words sent to the czarina. The ezar, in his dispatch, also refers to the recent visit of the French fleet to Cronstadt, and says that it was "a real pleasure to receive the brave French sailors."

His majesty also thanks the mayor and the municipal authorities of Cherbourg for the at-tentions shown the officers and crew of the Russian cruiser Korniloff, and adds: "We highly appreciate the warm reception tendered the officers and crew of our war ship by the authorities and people of Cherbourg."

IN WALL STREET TODAY. Only Three Stocks Monopolized Attention This Morning.

NEW YORK, August 6.—The narrowness of the stock market continues to increase and this morning only three stocks monopolized all the attention and a large proportion of the busi-ness done, but notwithstanding the heavy trading in those three stocks the market was dull roughout the hour. A rumor was circulated in London that a receiver was to be appointed for Union Pacific and the equivalent of the London price was 36½ against 38½ last evening. Considerable bear pressure was seen at the opening, which was made generally at small fractional losses from last evening's figures, but Northern Pacific preferred was down ½. Louis-ville and Nashville ¾ and Union Pacific ½. The epening loss in the last named was supplemented by a further decline of ¾ to 36½ on very heavy selling. The rest of the market, however, displayed strong tone in the face of the weakness in Missouri Pacific and all made fractional advances, Burlington rising ¾. The last named, with St. Paul and Union Pacific, were the active stocks, but the remainder of the list were dull and featureless, while displaying a firm tone. The best figures were well maintained, and at 11 o'clock the market was dull but firm, at fractions better than first in London that a receiver was to be appointed

In the stock market after 11 o'clock there was a further decline in Union Pacific of 1 per cent to 353s, and the rest of the list became feverish and weak, finally yielding to the influence of the weakness in the leading stock. Prices were generally brought down to a shade under first prices, but no material movement was seen outside of the more prominent stocks. Burlington yielded 1 per cent to 823s. Sugar was exceptionally strong and rose to 75%, a gain of 1 over its opening figure. It later made a further material advance when a substantial rally occurred in the general list. The market at noon was dull and firm, with prices at insignificant changes from opening figures.

THE GOOD WORK DONE BY THE STAR IN ACCOM-PLISHING THIS RESULT—HOW THE COMING OF The news received here last evening that Washington had been selected as the place for holding the next encampment of the Grand Army gave general satisfaction. It has been generally expected that the veterans would accept the invitation from the citizens' committee, and the full dispatches from the special representative of THE STAR in Detroit have kept the public posted in regard to the situation. However, the fact that the question had been decided was the general subject of comment through-out the city today. From the expressions of opinion heard on all sides there is no doubt but that the old soldiers will receive a warm welcome. The work done by The STAR in assisting the movement started to bring the encampment here is warmly commended, and in reviewing the events of the short but stirring campaign conducted by the citizens the part taken by The STAR comes in for a share of the What a number of citizens think of the action

THE STAR'S ENTERPRISE. "THE STAR has displayed wonderful liberality nd enterprise, the committee have done noble and self-sacrificing work, the railroads have taken hold with almost a prodigal expenditure, our citizens have responded nobly and all will now catch hold of the rope and pull for a grand success. I rejoice to see this fresh evidence that our people are fully alive to the fact that it pays to put in one dollar where ten can be taken out.

"The one man who has worked for years for this encampment and who deserves more credit than any one else, who talked against hope until he made our business men understand the importance of the project, is R. J. Beall. "This victory is worth millions of dollars in cash to Washington. Hurrah for peace, plenty and prosperity!" And Mr. Warner turned away

Mr. H. J. Fegan thought that the success of Washington in getting the grandarmy encamp ment was largely due to the influence of THE STAR. He thought the victory a great one and said that the encampment would be a great said that the encampment would be a great thing for Washington.

"The Star has done its work well. The victory is immense, and I think every citzen and merchant owes a vote of thanks to the great Star for bringing the encampment of the Grand Army here next year," said Mr. Van Wickle, the representative of the Bradbury Piano Company. "That hustling committee we sent away also deserves our congratulations. Washington will gain much."

Washington will gain much."

Mr. Robert Leging said that there was no doubt but that Washington had scored a great success in getting the next encampment of the Grand Army, and that much of the honor and praise should be given to THE STAR, which had done so much good work to further Weshing.

The Jacobs Bros. were of the opinion that the Grand Army encampment, which meets here in 1892, would be of untold value to the business interests of the city. "It will put a large amount of money in circulation and increase trade," they said. "The merchants and citizens should not lose sight of the fact that The Star, the great representative journal of the capital city, deserves a great deal of credit for its enterprise." Mr. I. Weller said that no one in the city was any more pleased than himself over the news of Washington's victory in having the Grand Army decide upon this city as the place for holding the next annual encampment. He thought it would do the city an immense amount of good, and that The Star had been instrumental in gaining the victory.

THE STAR STARTED THE BALL. "Of course I am glad that Washington has won the next encampment of the Grand Army," said Mr. B. H. Steinmetz, "for aside from the said Mr. B. H. Steinmetz, "for aside from the fact that business will be better, I will meet a number of old friends. You know I was in business here before the war and made many friends among the boys in blue. The Star is entitled to a great deal of thanks for its efficient work. It started the ball a rolling and kept it moving."

"I am very glad to hear that Washington won. Between The Star and that hustling committee we sent out there I couldn't see how we could lose. The crowds that are certain to come in 1892 will help business considerably." That is what Mr. J. Karr said to a Star reporter.

our back."

"All large crowds do a city a great deal of good," was what Mr. W. M. Shuster said, "and the larger the crowd the greater the good. The next encampment of the Grand Army, which takes place here in 1892, will bring an immense crowd. I swear by The STAR always, and it has shown a degree of spirit and enterprise that every one must acknowledge."

"The STAR did the work, and if it had not "THE STAR did the work, and if it had no "The Star did the work, and if it had not been for The Star those hustling Lincoln chaps would now be celebrating the victory and Wash-ington would have been left. tion's capital. I believe that there will be more Grand Army men in Washington in 1892 than ever assembled before or ever will again. This city, the veterans will find, has greater facilities for taking care of a large crowd than any other place. Washington is a convention city and our people know how to handle a great crowd. The committee on invitation deserve the thanks and gratitude of all cur people for their energetic and successful work. It goes without saying that the members of the board of trade will cooperate in carrying out the program of entertainment which will be arranged for the veterans while they are in this city."

GLAD THIS CITY WAD BEEN CHOSEN. Maj. Wooz of the Indian office, a Grand Army an, who staid at home, said today that he was glad on account of his comrades that this city had been chosen. He believed that they would enjoy their visit here, and as they were getting old it would probably be the last time that many of them would ever see Washington.

Descrited Her Two Days After Marriage.

Louisa F. Davis has, by Mr. E. F. Arnold, filed a bill for a divorce from Edward Davis. She states that her maiden name was Caradine and they were married by Rev. C. C. Meador March 6, 1886, after a short acquaintanceship, and she charges that two days after marriage he deserted and abandoned her. She charges further that the short time he lived with her he was grossly intemperate, treated her with great cruelty and has never contributed to her support, but even took and disposed of her jewelry. She states further that he was arrested in Hagerstown March 13, 1886, for embezzlement committed in this city, brought here, tried and sentenced to eleven months' in jail; that in November, 1887, he was convicted of grand larceny and sentenced to the Albany penitentiary for one year, and since then she has not seen him. She also charges, on information and belief, that before marriage he had been convicted of housebreaking or burgiary in New York and sentenced to the Albany penitentiary. She asks to resume her maiden name. acquaintanceship, and she charges that two days

Funeral of Mr. E. J. Whipple. The funeral of the late E. J. Whipple took lace yesterday afternoon in the cathedral of the Scottish Rite building, on G street. The casket was placed in the center of the hall with massive palms at three corners, from the center of which were lighted candles. On the casket lay the chapeau, baldric, belt and lambskin of the deceased, and there also were many beautiful floral tributes. On one side of the hail, at the left of the master, were members of Potomac Lodge, of which the deceased was a member, and, included in the large attendance, which filled every seat on the floor and in the galleries, were many Masons of high standing in every branch of the order. The beautiful Scottish Rite burial service was said under the direction of Eminent Master Roome, and an cottet choir, under the leadership of Mr. E. S. octet choir, under the leadership of Mr. E. S. Holmes, sang the chants most effectively. They also sang a hymn written by Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, which was a favorite with Mr. Whipple. The services were deeply impressive and some of those participating showed by their emotions their tender regard for their dead brother. The remains were then taken to Rock Creek cemetery for interment, the pallbearers being selected from Rose Croix Chapter, Scottish Rite, and Potomac

An Ohio Delegate Surprised.
A very pleasant incident in connection with the Catholic total abstinence convention was the presentation of a gold-headed cane to Mr. Thomas McSheehy of Fremont, Ohio, by the Tourists' Club of Pittsburg. The club represents about forty friends of the cause, who atsents about forty friends of the cause, who attended the convention. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Sullivan, the president of the club. Upon recovering from his surprise Mr. McSheehy made a fitting reply, thanking the ladies and gentlemen for their kindness. The presentation was made in recognition of Mr. McSheehy's courtesy in a showing members of the club the various attractions of this city, of which he has been a resident. Mr. Wm. A. Manning, vice president of the Catholic T. A. Union of America, who accompanied Mr. McSheehy when he was taken in custody by the presentation committee, also made a few appropriate remarks.

Protests Against Maj. Cox's Remarks. To the Editor of The Evening Star-I wish to inform the public through your valuable paper that in regard to the committee that called upon the District Commissioners Wednesday, August 5, for the purpose of protesting against the brutal treatment of certain police officers toward the colored people in East Washington, Maj. W. C. Cox was only a member of the committee and was not authorized to make any such a statement as that published in your paper. The colored people of East Washington are law-abiding citizens, and when any of their number is mistreated they generally protest. Mr. Daniel Stillyard was the spokesman of the committee, and he expressed the full sentiment of the committee and the colored people of the east. I write this card in justice to myself and the committee.
